

Welcome to The Zoroastrian Connection Matrimony group.

The Zoroastrian Connection Matrimony group is an initiative set up, to bring together Single Zoroastrians all over the world for the purpose of MARRIAGE.

The purpose of this group is to help you connect with like-minded individuals and to support you through your soulmate search.

We do welcome members, with one parent belonging to the Zoroastrian faith, if the members wish to marry within our community. We don't discriminate any Zoroastrians on the basis of the personal choices their parents have made in life. We at ZC do not promote any inter faith based marriages.

We believe in spreading happiness and helping all our fellow Zoroastrians in any way we can.

Mentioned below are ZC's Matrimonial group guidelines. These guidelines apply to members belonging to our group only. Please refrain from sharing the below guidelines with anyone outside of this group.

Do's

- A Profile write-up is like a mirror image of you. A well written write-up is one, which is an accurate representation of yourself, revealing to others who you truly are, and what it is that you are looking for. This in turn helps the right people to approach you and saves you the time and energy to invest in people who may not be interested in you or who are not a good fit for you. We at ZC provide our members with a special service to help them improve their profile write-up. We expect the information shared, to be genuine and complete.

- We encourage you to share videos, articles, blog links, eBooks, ONLY related to marriage, courtship, dating, or anything to do with marital decision making. Videos related to the engagement and marriage customs and rituals are also welcome.

- All the profiles are now listed on the Website and you can view it in the Matrimony section of the website. To view the complete profile you need to register on the Matrimony section on the website.

- Discussions on debate topics related to matrimony are held every week. A pre-selected topic is put up for discussion on Mondays. Members are encouraged to participate by sharing their views. We invite you to suggest topics that you would like up for discussion in the group.

They will be added to the question bank and will be put up for discussion in future debate sessions.

- Your ZC Family will be happy for you to proactively bring up areas of personal concern and challenges that you are facing, as well as positive, happy occurrences during this soulmate searching phase.
- We at ZC take suggestions and feedback seriously. If any member had any questions, or suggestions or feedback please reach out to the Admins directly (Do not disturb other members by posting it on the group). If the suggestion is valid and is feasible it will definitely be implemented.
- If you have any complaint to make with regards to other members, do not post these complaints on the group. You must notify the admins via direct messages, and the matter will be looked into and an amicable solution brought about.

Dont's –

This is a singles only group. Parents/Relatives are requested not to join the group. Please make your single children, single relatives and friends, join the group instead, so that the singles can mingle, with one another, on the group.

If parents wish to view profiles they can do it through our website. Parents and relatives are most welcome to join the website.

- We expect that the single members, who join this group, are the ones who are communicating with other members. Once on the group, if we find that parents are communicating with other members on the member's behalf, the member will be expelled from the group.
- We expect that the information you provide, will be accurate and honest, and if found incorrect or incomplete then, removal from the group, shall follow as a consequence.
- Generic forwards on this group are banned. You will be expelled from the group if you are found spamming the group with irrelevant information. However, relevant forwards related to the weekly topic of discussion, or matrimony related forwards, are permitted.
- No obscenity allowed. If you post anything obscene, vulgar and/or pervert, you will be removed from the group forthwith.
- All members please note that you cannot circulate messages that are illegal, dangerous to national security, violate IT laws or are objectionable in any way, or any messages which are likely to create any disharmony amongst the group or our community or even affecting communal harmony interfaith.

- Harassment/Mischief of other members won't be tolerated. Please report any matter of harassment/Mischief to the admin/s with a screenshot and immediate action, of expelling the member from the group, will be taken, after proper scrutiny, to the best of our ability, information, knowledge and belief.
- Please do not private message other members without their permission. Please make an official request on the group first to the person you wish to establish a private conversation with. If the person accepts your request, then you may go ahead and continue your private conversation. If there is no response from the other person, please assume it's a No and move on. This is being done to ensure that no members are unduly harassed without their consent.
- To reiterate, kindly note, you are not allowed to directly personal message any member on the group (other than the profile shared with contact details specified).
- In case the person does not wish to communicate with you, consider this decision as final and do not try and reach out to the person directly or through any other means.
- Mass contacting members via personal message is also prohibited on the group. You will be removed from the group immediately, if we receive any such complaint.
- If any member gives Admins as a reference to reach out to you or states that they come recommended by admins, it is the responsibility of the member to cross check with the Admins and not accept it at face value.
- We will not tolerate our group turning into a playground for any outside enmity amongst members. All members involved, in such name slinging on the group, will be removed from the group immediately.
- We (admins) do not know any member personally; hence we do not vouch or recommend any members and restrict ourselves to only sharing the information that is provided to us by members.
- We Admins do not vouch for the authenticity of the information provided in the profile, as it is based on the individual's declaration. You are required to cross verify the facts provided by members, through your own sources, before engaging or entering into any kind of dialogue/relationship.
- If two consenting members on the group mutually decide to engage into a relationship, the same shall be subject to their discretion and the admins endeavour comes to an end there and admins shall not be liable for any future event.
- If we receive any complaints, that members are verifying other co-members via apps, we will be forced to expel such members from the group on account of a breach of member's privacy and intrusive behaviour.
- No member shall divulge or share any personal/private information of any other member/s on this group.

- Kindly do not post other group links on this group. If you want other members to join your group please take their permission and send them the link in private. If a member or multiple members make a proactive request for the link/s to join other, non-ZC groups, please share the group link in a private chat with the person/s involved.

- ZC Meetups: Zoroastrian Connection Group Admins will organise get-togethers annually and members will be intimated in advance.

If any members are interested in meeting each other through self-organised meetups may do so. Needless to say, Zoroastrian Connection admins are not responsible in any way for such meetups. Every member attending any meetings or doing any business with another member in the group, please do so at your own risk.
